Who to connect with?

A green apple and a cup of coffee are on a wooden desk. The apple is in the top left corner, and the coffee cup is below it. A blue speech bubble with a yellow border is tilted and contains the text 'Answer Garden Activity' and 'Add 5 possible connections to the garden.'

Answer Garden Activity

Add 5 possible connections to the garden.

A thought bubble with a blue outline and a yellow fill is located in the top right corner. It contains the text 'Here's a helpful video on how to use Answer Garden!' where 'how to' is underlined in purple.

Here's a helpful video on how to use Answer Garden!

WHO TO NETWORK WITH

- > Full profile = 40x more views
- > Think broadly: summer jobs, unpaid internships, volunteer work
- > Work: past and present
- > School alum, current classmates
- > Trade shows, conferences, fairs
- > Networking events
- > Employment agencies
- > Socio-cultural groups
- > LinkedIn groups
- > Social media
- > Connect based on hashtags
- > Regulars you see (church, cafe, bus stop!)

Effective Netroductions

Present

- State what you do that creates value

Past

- Cite an impressive, relevant achievement

Future

- Outline what you want, and ask for input

Sample 1: Instructional Designer / eLearning

I teach my clients a few simple tricks to help them overcome the nervousness that many of us feel while searching, applying, and interviewing for work opportunities.

One of my proudest moments was when I celebrated the graduation of my 300th client from my job readiness training course.

What I'm eager to learn next is how to turn my 4 modules into a fully-asynchronous training course accessible to all job seekers looking to secure the job of their dreams. Because of your extensive instructional design experience, would you have any suggestions on which eLearning authoring tools I should definitely look into?

Sample 2: HR benefits manager

I balance the needs of employees and companies by structuring benefits packages that satisfy employees while keeping costs under control.

When Western Digital bought SanDisk, I reconciled the differences between their benefit plans, and when PayPal split off from EBay, I customized the new plans to fit each company's needs.

I'd like to transition into a consulting role that won't require me to fight through commute traffic each day, since I live 50 kms away. Could you recommend HR consultants to me from your network? I'd love to ask them to an informational interview.

Sample 3: Molecular biologist

I modify micro-organisms to produce useful products that you probably have in your homes without even knowing it!

An algal strain I developed produced a cooking oil with better properties than olive oil, and another strain produced a biodiesel fuel that powered two unmodified Volkswagen cars for a year with no issues.

My company is looking for investors. You have been highly recommended to me by Ned Werkin as a great person to talk with. Where could I go to meet potential investors?

10 Templates:

- Aja Frost, TheMuse (2021)

1. A colleague
2. A new colleague
3. A former co-worker
4. Someone you met at a networking event
5. Someone you admire
6. Someone in the same LinkedIn Group
7. A recruiter
8. An alumnus
9. Someone you want to work with
10. A casual acquaintance

SAMPLE LINKEDIN REQUEST TO RECRUITER

Dear Sam Kennedy,

I found your profile on the Association of Professional Women page and wanted to reach out to discuss potentially working together. I'm a social media strategist with 6 years of experience and currently seeking new opportunities. I'd love to chat about whether my background might be a fit for any of your openings, and I'd also be happy to connect you with other professionals in my field.

Looking forward to hearing from you,
Kendra Holloway

KEY TAKEAWAYS

1. Your network is your net worth.
2. 85% of jobs are filled through networking, making it the most reliable way to find work, with the best outcomes.
3. Network broad and narrow.
4. Networking is a 2-way street: remember the Give-to-Get mentality.
5. Introduce yourself with the present-past-future formula.
6. Build your network, then maintain those relationships over time.

THANKS!
